By car

- Coming from Oostende-Ghent (E40)

Take exit 17, Wetteren-Zottegem. Follow the road signs to Geraardsbergen. When entering Geraardsbergen, turn left at the second stoplights and take the bridge over the railroad (Oudenaardsestraat). From here on there are clear direction signs towards the Instituut voor Natuur- en Bosonderzoek (INBO).

In the Gaverstraat, nr.4 (on your left hand side with a car park left of the building) is the main INBO building. The second building with the meeting room (nr.35) is situated a little further on the right. In order to enter, you drive up the industrial zone. The building of INBO is the first on the right. You can park alongside it.

On foot or by bike from the railway station

Get off the train at the station of Geraardsbergen. Cross the station square, keep left and walk straight on into the Verhaegenlaan (changes later into the Guilleminlaan). After about 500 metres cross the bridge over the river Dender and turn right into the Gaverstraat at the first junction.

On your left, nr. 4 is the main building of INBO. The second building (nr.35), with the meeting room, is located a little further on your right. You enter the industrial zone where the INBO-building is the first on your right.

The walk from the railway station to INBO takes about 15 minutes.
